

Key West Regional GT

April 25 - 29, 2007

For those of you who made it to Key West for the Mini GT either of the last two years, you will be happy to hear we are going back. For those of you who have not made the trip, this is the perfect year to begin a tradition. Key West is a fun place to go, different from other venues, and ideal for sports cars. All you need to pack for this island get-a-way is a pair or two of shorts, a shirt or two (any style) and something for your feet (if you want).

Key West is a place where you can stay busy all the time, do nothing, or anything in between. The "in betweens" include walking or biking the quaint streets of Key West, bar-hopping, or visiting the many churches of Key West, live theater, lying on the beach; fishing, diving, sunset cruises, jet-ski tours, kayaking and wind-surfing, trips to the Dry Tortugas, shopping, or hanging out at your favorite bar. (Did I mention that already?)

We will be hanging out within steps of the "Southernmost Point of the U.S" beginning with a "Welcome Reception" at the Southernmost House overlooking the Atlantic. Our host motel, The Blue Marlin, is three blocks away. The banquet will be held at the Duval Beach Club on the Atlantic Ocean and will be a very exotic and sumptuous Luau, an experience not to be missed. In between, there is a Treasure Hunt sponsored by Pat Grace's Pirate Soul Museum Rum Barrel restaurant. The day begins at an old-fashioned drive-in restaurant for breakfast, go for treasure, then lunch at the Rum Barrel. That evening we

Wednesday, April 25, 2007

5:00 - 7:30 pm - Reception at Southernmost House.

Thursday, April 26, 2007

9:00 am - LuLu's Kiss Drive-In for breakfast: get first clue for treasure hunt. Lunch at Rum Barrel.

5:30 P.M. - Line up for The Conch Republic Celebration Parade, and party all night (sure!).

Friday, April 27, 2007

12 Noon - Car Show (Tentative - details to follow)

6:00 pm - Meet at Mallory Square, park in designated places for a mini car show, and watch the sunset with people from all over the planet.

Saturday, April 28, 2007

A free day: Shop, play, lie on the beach, or fish. This will be the best day to schedule a fishing trip, or that special Dry Tortugas trip.

6:00 pm - Cocktails on the beach and Awards Ceremony. 7:00 pm - Luau at the Duval Beach Club. This venue is on the beach so dress code is casual or formal as one chooses; sandals or barefoot are acceptable evening attire at this Luau.

will again be in the Conch Republic Independence Celebration parade. We were the hit of the parade last year, and we're going to have even more fun this year. We are still working on another "Conch-curs de Elegance" Car Show for this year. If there are those who would like to plan a half-day, or full day of fishing, and would like to pair up to book a trip, we will try to facilitate this for you. The maximum per boat for an enjoyable, un-crowded trip is four, but all boats will accommodate up to six anglers. Early registration for the fishing trips is appreciated. Please contact Fred Skomp directly at <fandcskomp@aol.com>.

Please book your room at the Blue Marlin, 1320 Simonton St., Key West, Florida, 33040, (305 294-2585 or 800 523-1698), and return the registration form (below) as early as possible to make sure you get the benefits of the special rates. The Key West Regional GTs have been a lot of fun in the past, and this one will be no exception. Participate in all or none of the special events but don't miss the trip to Key West this April. Bring your sunscreen, a smile, and the best laid back attitude you can muster - this will be so much fun! ♦
